My child has been identified as having SEND – What does this mean?

When a child is identified as having Special Educational Needs and/or Disabilities (SEND), it means they may benefit from additional support to help them access learning and make progress. This support might include targeted interventions, classroom strategies, or specific resources.

Each child with SEND has a personalised learning plan that outlines their strengths, needs, focus areas (outcomes), and the support in place to help them achieve these. Plans are reviewed three times a year (typically in terms 2, 4 and 6), with updated versions shared in terms 1, 3 and 5. Parents/carers, teachers, and pupils are all involved in reviewing progress and provision.

If your child is supported by an external professional, such as a Speech and Language Therapist or Educational Psychologist, you will always be informed and involved. The school will seek your consent before engaging any outside agency, and we are committed to working in partnership with families throughout this process.

If you have any concerns about your child's SEND provision, please speak with their class teacher in the first instance, or contact Maritza Agudelo. Strong collaboration between home and school is key to helping your child thrive, and we are here to support you every step of the way.
